HKBS DIRECTORY

PREFACE

Various effort over the past few years had been made to produce an updated membership list for Building Surveyors. Somehow the end product never got published.

When I came to the HKIS-BSD Chairmanship in May 1990, one of my objectives was to reinforce the communication link amongst individual members and the Division. Henceforth another round of effort to update the B.S. list was initiated.

Before completion of the task, the need for a list of practising members being available to the general public surfaced due to unfortunate building collapses in late 1990. As a result of consultation with the joint B.S. Divisional Council and other senior members, the idea of compiling a Directory instead of Members' List was endorsed.

Apart from formal publication of Directory, details are now held in data base which would enable updating more effective.

Thanks to Mr. Wai CHAN and the working party for all their hard work in crystallising the effort. Maybe in 12 months' time, another working party will be formed to update this Directory, probably in the form of " Who's who in Building Surveying " !

DAVID CHAN

Chairman (1990-91)

SECTION 1 : INTRODUCTION

1) The Institution (RICS) and the Institute (HKIS)

History of the surveying profession has originated from the United Kingdom over a century ago.

The Surveyors Club was founded in 1792, followed by the Surveyors Association in 1864 and subsequently the Institute of Surveyors in 1868. In 1881, the Institute of Surveyors had been granted a Royal Charter, and in 1964 assumed its present title "The Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors".

Locally, the Hong Kong Branch of the Royal Institution of Chartered Surveyors was formed in 1928. In 1978, a working party was set up to examine the possibilities of establishing a local institute. After 6 years of hard work, the Hong Kong Institute of Surveyors was formed in April 1984 and inaugurated in October of the same year.

In July, 1985, the joint office of RICS(HKB) and HKIS in room 1936 Swire House came into operation to handle the day to day management of members' affairs. By coincidence and by logic, design and project management of the then joint office was handled by a building surveyor.

2) RICS(HK) Building Surveyors Branch Committee and HKIS Building Surveying Division

The Building Surveyors Division of RICS (back in U.K.) only came into existence less than two decades ago. Actively advocated by a quantity surveyor, the B.S. Division was formed in 1973 from the " Building Surveyors Panel " within the General Practice Division. The initial B.S. membership was around 1,400 and grown to some 5,000 in early 1990.

In Hong Kong, B.S. representation in the RICS Hong Kong Branch Committee used to take the form of having " Divisional Representative " elected amongst members of B.S. discipline. On 5th January 1982, the first Building Surveyors Sub-committee was formed under the Chairmanship of Mr. David C. LEE whom was subsequently elected as the first B.S. Divisional Committee Chairman of the RICS(HKB) in March, 1983.

Following the formation of the HKIS in 1984, the first Building Surveying Division of HKIS was formed on 1st April 1985, and took the form of a joint council with the B.S. Divisional Committee of RICS(HKB).

3) Contributions of Building Surveyors

As evidence by numerous events over the past years, building surveyors have proved to be effective and efficient. We are highly co-herent and co-operative in Divisional matters; thanks to members dedicating long hours from their duty and spare time to establish the status of building surveyors, both within the Institution/Institute and the Society at large. Though not exhaustive, listed after this section are current B.S. representations in various committees and task groups.

4) Development of the Building Surveying Profession

The building surveying discipline has some 18 years of recorded history. Based on our unique skills within the construction industry, our career development lies very much in the reinforcement of our established expertise and to adapt ourselves to meet with the changing demands of the industry and the society.

No battle can be fought and won single handed. The Institution/Institute, the Divisions and individual members are very much part and parcel of one and another, each performing their respective duties so as to enhance the strength and growth of the Surveying Profession.

With the production of this Directory, our objective is to promote better communications amongst building surveyors and at the same time to facilitate an easy access to building surveying services by the general public.
